SERVICE

We know that food grade hose and sanitary fittings are expensive so we work with you to decide if a hose assembly can be repaired instead of replaced. Our expert hose technicians will evaluate it to determine if we can salvage parts of it to hold your costs down.

We know that downtime is also costly so we stock a wide range of hoses and fittings to get you what you need as efficiently as possible. Our certified connector specialists can identify the specific threads or other end fittings you need quickly and make your hose assemblies in minutes.
