

Reduce Downtime and Repair During Leaf Collection Season

Whether you're a local municipality with large leaf vacuum trucks or a homeowner with a consumer grade leaf vacuum machine, Cross Hose & Fittings has the right hose for you. We offer six different types of leaf and lawn collection ducting, made specifically for the task at hand. Ranging from 2" to 24", we can recommend the perfect hose for your particular application.

During the busy leaf collection season, you can't afford to have any downtime. Early fall is the time to inspect your leaf collection hoses for any cracks, tears, or holes that will keep you from getting the job done. We have a knowledgeable staff that can recommend the exact hose you need for your specific application.

We offer various options for standard lengths of leaf collection hose, ranging from 10', 12', or 25' long sections so you're not forced to buy more than you need. If you're not local to our store, all of the 10' and 12' sections are able to be shipped via UPS for your convenience.

Industrial and commercial ducting and vacuum hose by Flexaust is the premier brand. Flexaust has manufactured durable, long lasting, flexible hose and flexible ducting products, accessories, and vacuum attachments for industrial and commercial applications for years. They are industry leaders with their innovation, breadth of product offerings, and world-class customer service.

More details about Flexaust and all of their product offerings can be found on their website or the easy to use app called Flexaust Connect that can be downloaded below.

